Fall 2019 Courses

Course descriptions are available in the DukeHub

- ENVIRON 960 Making a Difference in the World (Orientation Week)
- ENVIRON 963 Program Management for Environmental Professionals (Wednesday 8–9:30pm)
- ENVIRON 964 Environmental Law and Policy (Thursday 8–9:30pm)
- ENVIRON 965 Environmental Leadership Module (Washington, D.C.)
Before you begin enrolling in fall classes, please review the following information.

1. NSOE courses numbered 900 and above are reserved for DEL–MEM students only in the fall.

2. New students must enroll in all of the courses listed in the 'Fall 2019 Courses' section. This may seem like a lot of classes, but do not be alarmed. You will earn one credit in ENV 960 by attending Orientation. Also, ENV 965 (Env Leadership Module), ENV 966 (Professional Writing), ENV 995 (Leadership Seminar) and ENV 998 (Program Area Seminar) are all one credit courses. Note: ENV 995 and ENV 998 will each meet 2–3 times during the semester; specific dates and times will be provided.

3. All new students should be enrolled in 10 credits this fall. Reminder, a minimum of 30 total credits are required to graduate.

4. The graduation checklist should be updated each semester by the student.

- ENVIRON 966 Professional Writing (Tuesday 8–9:30pm)
- ENVIRON 995 Leadership Seminar (Monday 8–9:30pm)
- ENVIRON 998 Program Area Seminar (Monday 8–9:30pm)
