

ITEHP Symposium Spring 2022
Coal Ash: How safe is it and how should we manage it?

Friday, March 25, 2022

JB Duke Hotel

8:30-9:00am Registration

- Refreshments available

9:00-9:15am Welcome and Opening: Dean Toddi Steelman

9:15-10:15am Environmental chemistry & risks of coal ash (Moderator: Avner Vengosh)

- Zhen Wang (Duke University, in-person)
- Ellen Cowan (Appalachian State, in-person)

10:15-10:30am Break

- Refreshments available

10:30-11:30am Health risks of coal ash (Moderator: Heather Stapleton)

- Kristina Zierold (Univ of Alabama, REMOTE)
- Julia Kravchenko (Duke University, REMOTE)
- Shea Tuberty (Appalachian State, in-person)

11:30-12:30pm Remediation / Management (Moderator: Helen Hsu-Kim)

- Jason Cheng (Ohio State, in-person)
- Rachel Landman (Raftelis, in-person)
-

12:30-1:30pm Lunch

1:30-3:00pm Policy, law, and community impacts (Moderator: Michelle Okoh)

- Lisa Evans (Earthjustice, in-person)
- Ruth Santiago (NGO Puerto Rico, in-person)
- Caroline Armijo (The Lilies Project, in-person)
- Tracey Edwards (The Lilies Project, in-person)

3:00-4:00pm Panel discussion led by MEM students

4:00pm Adjourn