CAIRNS WEEKLY NEWSLETTER

Happy Monday

It was wonderful to see you all last Thursday for our 1st spring Monthly Meeting!

Communicating in Difficult Situations

During our meeting, we discussed the strengths and weaknesses in how we individually communicate, as well as experiences in communicating through uncomfortable situations. We appreciate all of you for sharing with each other, and for fostering a safe and open discussion space. For those who'd like to review Nicki's slides around handling uncomfortable moments and microaggressions, you can find the presentation here.

Some other helpful readings:

- Calling in vs. Calling Out
- Managing Up

If you are looking for resources on how to report or need to report inappropriate behavior or an incident at Duke, we have compiled a list of resources at the end of this newsletter. Please feel free to reach out to me (meilin.chan@duke.edu), Nicki (nicolette.cagle@duke.edu), or use this anonymous survey if you would like support.

Sustainability Careers Panel

We will be having our Sustainability Careers Panel on Thursday, February 17 at 7pm on Zoom. Please save the date on your calendars, and keep an eye out for a calendar invite

If you feel that something is not working with your mentor or mentorship group, please let me and Nicki know or fill out this anonymous survey.

Blueprint - February 5-6 (virtual)

Participants will be able to learn from urban studies experts and professionals ranging from GIS experts, architects, city planners, environmental justice experts and will compete in teams to design innovative, but feasible solutions to urban problems for the chance to win a $1500 seed grant to develop their solution. No prior experience is required.
