We are excited to already have so much interest in the UNFCCC Practicum, ENVIRON 592, for this upcoming fall!

For those who are not familiar, the Practicum is a course that examines the negotiation of international climate change agreements under the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change and offers students the invaluable opportunity of attending the negotiations. This year the 29th Conference of the Parties (COP29) will take place in Azerbaijan. We welcome undergraduate, masters, professional, and doctoral students from all fields/departments/programs.

The only prerequisite is a passion for climate change policy.

We will be hosting the information session for the course next week on June 20th at 10:00 AM EST. Applications will be released on the call and will be posted directly on the website afterwards. They will be due by June 28th at 11:59 PM (ET).

Please fill out this form to be sure to receive updates from our team and check out our website for more information.

The Zoom information for the info session is below.

Best,

Jackson Ewing, Eni Owoeye, Colleen Nieto, and Gabriela Nagle Alverio
